Course Structure

The healing touch of Massage has been part of health care since humans first walked the earth. All cultures have developed their own methods of massage therapy from ancient Greece and Rome to Japan and Thailand.

This nationally recognised and Centrelink approved course (HLT40307) is designed for you, should you wish to become a professional massage therapist.

The College's Certificate IV in Massage Therapy Practice HLT40307 course is unique in that it bridges

Oriental and Western Massage theory and practice, giving a breadth and depth of understanding of the body from both perspectives offering an original approach to the study of Therapeutic Massage.

Units of Competency are embedded in a variety of delivery formats, including direct hands-on training, supervised student clinics, workshops, handbooks, community events and open days.

All elements of the training are grounded in the meaningful framework of clinical practices that enable graduates to conduct a sustainable, successful and rewarding practice.

As a graduate of the course, you will be eligible for membership of the major complementary health associations and can expect to gain employment in clinics, medical centres, gyms, spas or set up your own private practice.

Training Plan and Course Fees

Details of the training schedule including course fees, are available on a separate document. All handbooks and texts are included in the price.
